TUESDAY MORNING, OCT 6 1863

Military Arrests

We have no faith in despotisms, civil or military, and would be glad if there never was occasion for the exercise of what may be termed arbitrary power When, however, the salvation of a nation requires active and even violent measures to crush and quell disorderly attempts to break down the authority of the Government—especially, when in time of war, the enemies of the country sneakingly endeavor to give aid and comfort to the nation's foe, we will not question the wisdom or policy of any action which tends to weaken their influence or hinder their treasonable designs from being made effective Indeed, we do not believe that the Government has, in this respect, manifested the patriotic energy which the people would have cheerfully welcomed. We know that some timid, time serving politicians seem to be afraid of any efficient and zealous action, which earnest and thorough patriotism dictates and demands. There was a remonstrance from this sort of people against the bold and excellent discipline administered by Burnside to the leading Ohio traitor—a course of proceeding which, in our judgment, merits the unqualified and hearty approbation of every loyal citizen We are more strongly confirmed in this impression by the opinions of the faithful army officers who were in the vicinity at the time, and knew, from actual observation, how much mischief and peril were likely to follow from the efforts of disloyal demagogues to weaken the power of the Government, and to fan the flame of treason just beginning to burn in the West The following letter to the New York Evening Post, from an officer of high rank in the Department of the Ohio, gives good and abundant reasons for the arrest of the arch traitor

"I think you are wrong about Vallandigham His offense was essentially a military one in this aspect, that it demoralized the army, prevented recruiting, encouraged desertion, and tended to make trouble about the increase of the army by conscription, by inciting resistance to the execution of that law These, mind you, are not problematical results of his course, but actual Specific cases of all of them, except the last, are continually occurring, invariably among men who call themselves Democrats and swear by Vallandigham The only remedy was by sudden and short stoppage. This could not possibly be effected by the civil law His offense is hardly known to civil law, and there would have been no end of trouble in getting him indicted. Then he would have been simply bound to stand his trial at some future day, and would have gone on talking his treason and sedition And the bad effects before mentioned would have gone on growing in power and influence, and might have got too big to stop

Moreover, special cases of ill doing, resulting from and directly in accordance with his teachings, have constantly to be attended to They cannot be overlooked Should we punish them and let him go on inciting the commission of just such acts? abusing the Courts that try them, and bringing their authority into disrepute?

You have no idea of the amount of open and bold disloyalty—not simply disloyalty by the Republican standard, but by that of any honest man—existing in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, among the Vallandigham party. It must be stopped and put down now—not six months hence—and military tribunals are the only ones that can do it It must be put down, if it should take a temporary military despotism out here to do it. It is that, or the loss of the cause. The course of these men prolongs the war, and costs lives by thousands, and I tell you either they or the Government must go down, and that speedily "

BLOCKADE RUNNING ON A LARGE SCALE —We observe in the Eastern papers that it is estimated that during the month of August the value of the war material and general merchandise which were safely run into Wilmington, N. C , in spite of the blockade, was not less than $3,000 000, which was paid for in return cargoes, and obviates the necessity of cash payments These goods, after being landed, are easily forwarded to all parts of South, and the means are thus obtained for a prolonged resistance to our arms

VALLANDIGHAM IN TROUBLE —According to the Toledo (O) Blade, men who were the most prominent in effecting the nomination of Vallandigham for Governor of Ohio, including some of those who are on the same ticket with him, have agreed to present a proposal to him requiring a pledge that in case of his election, he will co operate fully with the National Government in the support of its war measures, and that he is to have the choice of signing it or giving place to some man who will make that pledge

WEST POINT —The class which has just graduated contained twenty five members only one of whom Robert Catlin of Washington Territory, hails from the Pacific coast Cadet Catlin has been assigned to duty in the army with the Fifth Regiment of Artillery

VALLANDIGHAM ENCOURAGING THE DEFENSE OF VICKSBURG —A Stevenson (Alabama) correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes upon the authority of Union citizens of Alabama and Tennessee, that Vallandigham while in the South repeatedly exhorted the rebels to hold on to Vicksburg declaring that the success of his party in Ohio depended altogether in the ability of the rebel Government to baffle the Union armies besieging that place The evidence of this fact the Gazette writer declares to be indisputable

Destruction of Thaddeus Stevens Iron Works—Perfidy of a Rebel General

It has already been published that the rebels, on their recent visit to Pennsylvania destroyed the extensive iron works in Adams county owned by Thaddeus Stevens The manager of these works has made a report to Stevens of the doings of the rebels, and the manner in which they destroyed his property

It appears some personal enemy and rebel sympathizer took special care to inform Gen Jenkins that Stevens had three very fine saddle horses Soon after the enemy had encamped on the premises the rebel General demanded of the manager the delivery of the horses, which he described, and which the manager had hidden away After some parleying, General Earley said if the horses were not brought forward he would burn the entire works to the ground 'Do I understand them,' said the manager that if the horses described by you are delivered no further damage will be done to the establishment General Jenkins replied in the affirmative The horses were produced and taken away by the General This occurred on Tuesday the 2nd of June On Thursday the enemy again returned, when General Earley took possession of the works and told the manager that they were to be totally destroyed The manager remonstrated, and called to mind the stipulation made on Tuesday with Gen Jenkins

General Earley replied that Stevens had been active against the Confederacy and had done the cause more harm than any other man in Congress, and they would therefore make an example of him. He regretted that he had not captured the proprietor with the works 'No doubt you would give him a berth in Libby,' said the manager "No sir," said the General "I would hang him on the spot and divide his bones and send them to the several States as curiosities '

The order was given to remove all the wagons, iron tools, and whatever would be useful to the army The work of destruction was then commenced The large smelting furnace, two forges, a puddling mill, the rolling mill, saw mill blacksmith shops store houses wagon houses, and sheds were reduced to ashes

In providing for a large and profitable blast, Stevens had, at great expense, laid in a large stock of anthracite and charcoal, and provisions and stores for the coming season, all of which were carried away or destroyed. Several hogsheads of bacon, sugar and molasses, and several thousand bushels of wheat, rye oats, and corn, were appropriated for rebel use The fences and some of the dwelling houses were torn down and heaped against the piles of coal, and thus reduced to ashes Wood was piled on each of the platform scales, and fired, and thus even to the smallest degree nothing was left undone to make the destruction of Stevens' property utterly complete The loss, as estimated by the manager, amounts to ninety thousand dollars

It is indicative of rebel spite against the proprietor that of the three extensive iron works within the sweep of a seven miles radius, only those belonging to Stevens were destroyed , the other works suffered no damage beyond the loss of horses

The severe loss of property has in no way abated the zeal or affected the patriotism of this ardent lover of liberty and cool defender of human rights Stevens is as earnest and cheerful as ever He remarked to a gentleman who sought to console him "It is of small consequence and is one of the fates of war , we must all suffer more or less, and if it will aid in bringing this war to a successful termination and eradicate the cause of contention from the Union, I am willing that the balance of my property shall also be sacrificed '

When Jenkins arrived in Chambersburg he boasted to a citizen that he had Stevens's fine horses, and said he was sorry they did not capture Stevens The citizen replied that if he had arrived a few hours sooner he might have been gratified, as Stevens had just gone East on the last train 'My God,' said Jenkins, "if I had known that I would have ridden all night to have got here in time I would rather capture him than any man in the State ' Stevens is enjoying good health and no doubt will, during the next session of Congress, give traitors additional cause to hate him

THE POTENT WEAPON OF WAR —Every day is adding fresh evidences as to the wisdom of the emancipation policy. A letter from a soldier in Johnston's army, written at Brandon Miss , after declaring that "we are a defeated and ruined people, shorn of our strength, powerless for a successful solution of the problem undertaken—or rather ours was erroneous, the solution has been shown us by a more favored people," adds this significant statement, which is taken from the N Y Evening Post

The negro emancipation policy, at which we so long hooted, is the most potent lever of our overthrow It steals upon us unawares and ere we can do anything, the plantations are deserted, families without servants, camps without necessary attendants, women and children in want and misery In short, the disadvantages to us now, arising from the negroes, are tenfold greater than have been all the advantages derived from them earlier in the war.

FRENCH INTERVENTION —A copperhead orator says that "destiny will prompt Louis Napoleon to espouse the Confederate cause, whether Great Britain will or will not join him " Now, while it is true that the Emperor of the French—like his uncle Napoleon—seems to be guided by destiny he will doubtless profit by its lessons The same immutable, pre ordained destiny which made the first Napoleon Consul and Emperor, consigned him to defeat at Waterloo and to exile at St Helena, when he attempted to set the outraged feelings of civilized Europe at defiance And it cannot be possible that the present ruler of the French will attempt to force the Christian powers to receive in the present civilized age, a new comer into their family who bases her claim to nationality upon the enslavement of the African race Such a step might also sow a whirlwind in France and stimulate the mercurial Parisians to resume their wild dances of freedom to the tune of the Marseilles hymn —Boston Journal

"WHIRL IT ROUND !"—The Philadelphia North American says

During the draft in the Fourteenth Ward a little incident gave rise to much merriment and contributed to the good feeling everywhere manifested about the Conscription In the crowd there stood a pale faced Irishman with his hands crossed and arm behind his back He gazed intently as each name was drawn from the wheel of destiny He had not been heard to speak a word to anybody Presently he appeared to be operated upon by some unseen galvanic battery During his trance he exclaimed in an Irish sharp tone Whirl it round whirl it round ! rouse it will ye ! shouted the man He was evidently full of dread suspense

'What's the matter with you ?' said the Provost Marshal

Oh, be jabers turn it round a dozen times, for that man you drawed for last is my next door neighbor

At this point the universal laugh came in

LOUIS NAPOLEON AND OUR SILVER MINES —Bishop Simpson delivered a very eloquent sermon in Chicago on the National Thanksgiving day He said he believed that the battle of Gettysburg saved us from French interference No living man better understands the condition of our Southern borders, Mexico, Central America and our Western coast, than does the Emperor of the French When he, the Bishop, had occasion some nine years ago to visit California and Oregon, on seeking for a geography and description of the country, and particularly of the gold regions, the best extant he could find was from the pen of Napoleon, written before he came to the throne, and from that time on, said the Bishop, I have been of the opinion that when the right time came Napoleon would be found interfering with Mexico We quote the remainder of the Bishop's interesting statement on this topic

While in California last fall I thought I would visit the Territory of Nevada to see something of the wealth of that country and I was there surprised to find the best papers written on the subject of the resources and wealth of Nevada, were from the pen of the agent of Louis Napoleon. I saw again the footsteps of the French Emperor there, and thought he was looking to see what degree of wealth could be found in case these United States should in time be dissolved That wealth comprises that which the nations of the world never have yet contended for —Were the debt of our Nation to amount to 20,000,000,000 of dollars, there is wealth enough there when our debt is paid off, to give every soldier who returns from our battle fields, muskets of silver in place of iron, and when our iron clads come back from the scenes of victory before Charleston and Mobile and have swept away the defenses of Wilmington, when the iron clads come back into our harbors there shall be silver enough left to plate those boats more heavily than now they are plated with iron I do not speak now from idle speculation, but I speak of that wealth from observation and actual calculation When in California I visited the mines, and I thought the time would come when they would be exhausted, but in the mines of Nevada there are no such indications visible The more the mines are worked the richer they yield The extent of the ledges containing the precious metals no man has yet been able to measure I will mention a single instance to give you some idea of the inexhaustible supply In what is termed the Ophir mine, a single lead, as it is called there, is fifty five feet in thickness, and inclines only at an angle of five degrees. Think of the extent of that, nearly as far as from this altar to yon wall This is all silver mingled with gold There is more gold in value than silver but more silver in weight than gold The company have only 200 feet working and out of that they are now realizing about ten thousand dollars a day There is this peculiarity about it, that the deeper the mine extends the richer and more probable it becomes. When I was there they had penetrated 200 feet There were five chambers which they had dug out, one under the other, leaving large pillars to support the roof. They would sink a shaft down about forty feet, make another platform, dig out the metal leaving pillars as before, and then sink another One of the directors told me that each lower platform gave as much yield as all the others combined, that is, the fifth platform was as valuable in its yield as the four above it put together Such wealth never was a matter of contest among all the powers of earth before

THE UNION VICTORY IN WILMINGTON, DEL —The New York Tribune of Sept 2d has the following

A charter election was held in Wilmington, Del, yesterday, contested upon a square issue of support or repudiation of the National Administration The Copperhead paper says

The man who votes for any Administration candidate to day assents to all the bad acts and worse designs of those abolition powers which now rule, and to the abandonment of the highest objects of our constitution The vote for the Democratic nominees is the best means of condemning this wickedness, of rebuking those efforts to establish a negro equality which sickens the soul in that ruthless conscription or "lottery of death" they have contrived, which has carried woe and consternation into so many houses Our success in electing the Democratic ticket to day will be one more step, and a stout one, toward the prayed-for deliverance and peace

With this understanding the people voted, perfectly free and untrammeled The Unionists re-elected Mayor Gilpin they carried every ward and every division of a ward; they elected every member of the city Council the Treasurer, Assessors, Aldermen and Inspectors—in short, they elected every candidate voted for Will the peace Copperheads make a note of this?

THE REBELS DISHONORING THEIR OWN CURRENCY —The Knoxville Register mentions, as a singular fact, that Confederate bonds are worth more in England than at home Here Confederate money is almost constantly depreciating It is difficult to make a purchase, however small " the Register continues, "without being reminded by the seller of the great depreciation of our money — From the man who sells you a horse for six or eight hundred dollars down to the shop keeper who sells you an almanac for twenty-five cents, all pile on an enormous price, and by way of an apology, give the currency a kick "

But what do the rebels propose to do about it ?

MINERS' MEETING —A private correspondent at Bannock, of Sept 23d, says a miners' meeting was held yesterday for the purpose of changing the laws which bound them to work dry diggings one day in every seven, and thus enable miners to lay their claims over till spring But the effort did not prove successful The old law was not only sustained but claimholders were obliged to set their corners This will cause many to stay and winter here, who would not otherwise —State Journal

LIBERTY OF THE PRESS —Ben Wood in his Daily News is continually whining about interference with the liberty of the press What does he call the onslaughts upon Government the incitements to forcible resistance to the conscription and the unequivocal evidences of sympathy with the rebellion with which his journal abounds? It these do not constitute liberty of the press and something more we are at a loss for the true meaning of the phrase —N Y H[illegible]

GENERAL GRANT ON COPPERHEADS —A significant remark was made a few days since by General Grant to some Chicago friends They were conversing upon General Logan and his extension of furlough General Grant remarked that he extended General Logan's furlough because while he was in Illinois fighting Copperheads he was still in the field doing duty

Remarkable Cure.

BRIST, MONROE Co, (Mich) Oct. 9, 1859.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & Co—In reply to inquiries as to the efficacy of your DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, justice requires of me to state that, having at times been attacked by a violent contraction of the muscles of the legs, I experienced immediate relief by taking at each time a swallow of the Pain Panacea, direct from the bottle. It is rather a tough remedy, but I have always found the smarting of the Panacea a very happy exchange for the excruciating pains attending cramps in the limbs.

Your obedient servant,
SAMUEL HENDRY.

Storage.—THE FIRE-PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building, "not made of wood," at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although storage in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton, yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

Dalles, Jan 20, 1863.1m RASEY BIVEN.

N. B. A liberal discount made for lots of 50 tons or more, where goods are Stored for more than one month.

☞ In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished! Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

"Blessed are the Pure in Heart."

BY WILLIAM H. BURLEIGH.

They who have kept their spirits' virgin whiteness,
Undimmed by folly and unstained by sin,
And made their foreheads radiant with the brightness
Of the pure truth whose temple is within—
They shall see God.

Freed from the thrall of every sinful passion,
Around their path way beams celestial light.
They drink with joy the waters of salvation,
And in His love whose love is [illegible]
They shall see God.

Though clouds may darken [illegible]
The Promise pours through all its steady [illegible]
Nor hate can daunt, nor [illegible]
Nor earth's temptation lure them from the way
That leads to God.

They shall see God! [illegible] glorious fruition
Of all their hopes and longings here below,
They shall see God in beatific vision,
And evermore into his likeness grow—
Children of God!

So when the measure of their faith is meted,
And angels beckon from the courts on high—
Filled with all grace, the work divine completed,
They shall put on their immortality,
And dwell with God.

—Christian Enquirer.

A REMEDY FOR DIPTHERIA.—This affection, which comprises those known under the various names of bad sore throat, angina, croup, and the French angine couenneuse, has hitherto been considered one of the most difficult to cure. We some time back gave an account of Dr. Trideau's method, which consists in administering storax under the form of a syrup; but we now find in the Revue Therapeutique a paper by Dr. De Grand Boulogne, Vice Consul at Havana, in which he mentions ice as an infallible specific. As this, from its extreme simplicity, would, if affective, be far superior to any yet tried, we cannot refrain from quoting the cases mentioned by the author, who had published this remedy as far back as February, 1860, and consequently complains (not without reason, if its efficacy is such as he describes it,) of the inexcusable negligence of practitioners in not taking notice of it, thereby allowing many valuable lives to be lost. The following cases came under his observation after that date: In March and April, 1861, the disease in question broke out under an epidemic form, and chiefly attacked adults, with such virulence, that in one week three young women died in one house. One of Dr. De Grand's patients, afflicted with blephacite, was seized with it, and as he could not immediately attend, owing to the severity of the case, another physician was called in, who ordered emetics and aluminous gargles, which produced no effect. At length Dr. De Grand came, and found the tonsils greatly swollen and a false membrane covering them. He immediately administered small pieces of ice, and by the following morning the tumefaction of the tonsils had nearly disappeared. That very evening she was enabled to take food. A few days after, her brother was seized with sore throat, presenting the same preliminary symptoms as those of his sister; but he, profiting by this example, without waiting for the Doctor, at once took some ice, and was rid of his sore throat in a few hours. Some days after, Dr. De Grand was summoned to a young lady who had been laboring under the disease for some forty-eight hours; all remedies had failed, and the parents, relations and friends of the lady were plunged in the deepest sorrow. When Dr. De Grand ordered ice, a general cry of astonishment was uttered by all present. Ice for a sore throat! Impossible! It was sheer murder! Dr. De Grand maintained his ground; and after much expostulation, during which much time was lost, he obtained his end. Before twenty-four hours were over the patient was in full convalescence. Being at Vera Cruz on a mission, he was requested to see a young man who was attacked with malignant sore throat, and had been treated without effect with cauterizations, with hydrochloric acid and astringent gargles. Here again he had to battle with the prejudices of the family, but was at length allowed to administer ice. The young man recovered in the course of the following day. Dr. De Grand has now been using this remedy for the last twelve years, without having met with a single failure. This is what he says, but even if only half of what he says were true, the method should be tried by others. Cold gargles have been employed with success by Dr. Blanc, of Strasburg; why not ice?

EDITING A COUNTRY PAPER.—Editing a country newspaper is a very pleasant business, as will appear from the following, which are some of the objections urged against its adequate support:

If it contains too much political matter people don't want it.

If it contains too little they won't have it.

If the type is large it don't contain enough reading matter.

If small, they can't read it.

If telegraphic reports are published, folks say they are nothing but lies.

If they are omitted, people say the lazy publisher has no enterprise, or, suppresses them for political purposes.

If we have a few jokes people say we are nothing but a rattle-head.

If we omit the jokes they say we are a dull old fogy.

If we publish original matter on every page, they damn us for not giving selections.

If we give selections, they say we are a lazy noddle and incapable of original idea.

If we give a man complimentary notices, we are censured for being partial.

If we do not, all hands say we are a greedy hog.

If we insert an article which pleases the ladies, the men are jealous and say we are soft.

If we do not cater to the tastes and wishes of the ladies, the paper is not fit to have in their houses.

Every advertiser wants his advertisement in the "leading column."

If we attend church, they say it is only for effect—we're not religious.

If we do not, they denounce us as immoral and desperately wicked.

If we speak well of any act of the President, they say we dare not do otherwise.

If we censure him, they call us rebel and traitor.

If we remain in our office and attend closely to our own business, we are called proud, stuck-up and very mean.

If we go out and "mingle," they say we are never to be found at the office, we are "shiftless" and won't last long.

If we do not pay our bills more promptly than anybody else, people say we are not to be trusted.

If we do pay our debts promptly, they wink at one another and say they know where we got the money—we have sold ourselves to the opposition political party.

If we wear plain common clothing, they say business is poor, and we are rapidly going to the dogs.

If we wear good ones, they say we are a spendthrift, putting on airs and will bust up very soon.

Now, under these circumstances, what "show" has the poor devil of an editor, in the blazing midst of such patriots? Can anybody offer "good and wholesome advice" in this matter? Shall we try to please "everybody" or permit "everybody" to flicker?

A NEW ELEMENT FOR WEST POINT.—It seems that the President has determined to fill the Cadetships at West Point that are left vacant by the operation of the rebellion, by the appointment of deserving young men from the army. Gen. Grant has received orders from Washington to send in the names of soldiers in his army who are of the proper age and qualified for the position; and examinations of candidates are being made by General Sherman. This is an excellent idea. Those who are chosen will combine every element of success, as they will be selected solely for their ability, and without regard to political effect. The young cadets now at West Point also will have comrades who have been in actual battle and have enjoyed the baptism of fire. Its effect upon the army will be excellent, and its effect upon West Point will be to elevate still higher its character and spirit. There is no scarcity of proper material in the ranks of our army; even that severe schoolman, General Sherman, reports that there is a surprising number of young men qualified for the cadetship.—N. Y. Times.

HOUSES IN WASHINGTON.—A Washington letter writer says the demand for places to live in Washington is treble the supply already, and when Congress meets it will be difficult to accommodate all the people as it used to be on inauguration days. Such a thing as a vacant house is unheard of. Ordinary houses on the back streets, that once rented for $150 and $200 per annum, are now commanding double that amount, and the tenant often gives a premium of a hundred dollars or so for the privilege of paying such a rent. It is estimated that from five hundred to a thousand vacant houses are needed at this moment. Only the rich can keep house.

MEN, WOMEN OR CHILDREN.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS.

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable), hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS,
and
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore, thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!
AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
